

Tremco Roofing and Building Maintenance

Rick Curpenski

Senior Field Advisor

Metro Boston and Southern Massachusetts

Cell Phone: 508.243.4128

E-mail: rcurpenski@tremcoinc.com

Personal Philosophy

After more than 20 years in the roofing industry, my focus is on helping my clients keep their roofs/buildings in a dry condition for the least amount of money.

I help them do this through sound, thorough evaluations, recommendations and action plans to help extend the life of roofing assets and provide a solid return on investment (ROI) for each roof. Helping clients save money through repairs, preventive maintenance programs and restoration systems prevents needless and expensive tear-off and replacement projects.

We have a myriad of programs to help clients achieve the best ROI on their roofing assets. When a replacement is the only option left, we have numerous roof systems that will fit the specific needs, use, and budget. I provide the roof options to my clients and together we choose what system will work best for them.

Expert Qualifications

- More than 20 years in the roofing industry
- Successfully managed hundreds of roof replacement projects in and south of metropolitan Boston
- Serving building owners in schools, towns, state and federal government, hospitals, property management, utilities and other markets
- Successfully manage preventive maintenance programs for both public and private entities using Tremco Incorporated subsidiary and service arm WTI (Weatherproofing Technologies Inc.)
- Successfully execute small repairs and restorations with WTI

Education

- Salem State University; Bachelor of Science, Business